Agreement On Excise Tax Cut Reported

Committee Certain Of Truman Okay; Corporations Hit

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP) — Democratic tax law drafters were reported today, after a surprise secret huddle, to be in virtual agreement on a billion-dollar-plus excise tax cutting bill that could avoid a presidential veto.

The huddle, understood to have been attended by house ways and means Democrats and Speaker Rayburn, changed the whole outlook for tax legislation — which had been dark for this session.

They made no announcement, but there were indications their minds were about made up to:

1. Ram through a bill slashing excise taxes by $1,100,000,000 on jewelry, furs, luggage, toilet preparations, movie tickets, travel tickets, baby bottle warmers and scores of other items.

2. Put into the bill a hike in the income tax rate for large corporations, perhaps from the present 38 per cent to 41 per cent — to collect about $500,000,000 additional from these corporations annually.

3. Meet a July 1 deadline for house passage of the measure, so that the senate will have time to act before the present Congress adjourns.

The secret meeting developed the first strong indication that the 25-member Ways and Means Committee will approve a boost in corporation income taxes, to avoid President Truman's threat to veto the bill if it fails to offset the excise cut by larger taxes in other directions.

The President proposed a four-point increase in the corporation tax rate, to pick up $675,000,000 annually, but the committee Democrats are leaning toward a three-point jump. It is understood also that the committee Democrats are about to accept the administration's proposal for elimination of the present so-called "notch" provision in the corporate tax.

Under present law, the corporate income rate is 21 per cent on the first $5,000; 23 per cent on the next $15,000; 25 per cent on the next $5,000; 53 per cent from $25,000 to $50,000; and 38 per cent on all over $50,000.

Under the administration proposal, the corporate rate would be 21 per cent on the first $5,000; 23 per cent on the next $15,000; 25 per cent on the next $5,000; all over $25,000 would be taxed at the general corporation rate (now 38 per cent; might become 41 per cent).

MILK DRIVERS GUARDED BY POLICE—As a "white market" in milk grows in Pittsburgh, Pa., during strike of AFL milk drivers, police guard carriers on suburban routes. Negotiations seemed to be getting nowhere as milk was sold by farmers and chain stores at the state-fixed price of 19 cents a quart. In some instances "bootleggers" sold the precious liquid at 30 cents a quart on the "white market."

2 Escape From Mahoning Jail

E. Liverpool Parole Violator Missing

YOUNGSTOWN, June 15 — A manhunt was on here today for two parole violators who escaped from Mahoning county jail in gray prisoner garb Wednesday morning.

One is Edward Lyons, 20, of East Liverpool, sentenced last Friday by Judge Joel H. Sharp of Columbiana county as a parole violator, after he had been arrested in connection with an auto theft.

Lyons had been recommitted to the Mahoning jail pending his transfer to the state penitentiary where he has been sentenced for a one-to-20 year term.

The other escapee is listed as Harry Kimla, 22, of Youngstown.

The two youths squeezed through the bars of their cell and dropped 25 feet to the ground. Their escape was discovered at 2:30 p. m.

90 Pupils Enrolled In Summer Classes

Preliminary registration shows 90 pupils have signed up for summer tutoring classes at Salem High School. The classes, covering a six weeks period, are held in the morning, primarily for pupils who want to get extra credits and those who are making up lacking credits, Principal B. G. Ludwig said today.

The classes officially start at 9:30 a. m. Friday when textbooks will be distributed and first assignments made. Teachers will be A. V. Henning, J. C. Guiler and R. W. Hilgendorf.

History has drawn the highest enrollment to date with 24 pupils signed up for world history, 47 for U. S. history and government, nine for modern European History, five for Sociology and five for Spelling.

Salem Now Officially Can Build City Hall

It's official now—we can have a new City Hall. The Campbell Construction Co. took out a building permit for the new city building this week, almost three months after ground was broken on the S. Broadway - E. Pershing site.

Council and the city administration have been wondering: (1) If it was necessary for the city to take out a permit for a building residents voted for; (2) Who the permit be issued to; and (3) Who should pay the dollar fee.

But in this case, as in any other building activity in Salem involving an expense of $100 or more, a permit is to be issued.

One Hurt In Three Accidents In City

One person was slightly injured in one of three accidents involving five vehicles on Salem streets today and Wednesday.

George Mangus of 925 Home Circle suffered severe lacerations of the cheek and bruises about the face when his car driven by Dana Rice of 247 E. Fifth st., went over the curb and into a tree in front of 492 N. Ellsworth ave. at 12:15 this morning. Miss Rice made a left turn to go east on Fifth st. when she lost control of the vehicle.

Mangus was treated at City Hospital. Miss Rice was uninjured.

Cars driven by Dr. Joseph Gruber of R. D. 4, Lisbon and Clarence E. McMichael of Detroit, collided in front of 123 S. Ellsworth at 2:20 p. m. Wednesday.

Dr. Gruber was going south on S. Ellsworth when McMichael pulled away from the curb and hit the side of his auto.

Gruber's front bumper was torn loose and bent and McMichael's car had the left fender torn loose.

Operation SPIC Ends With Saturday Event

Feature events in the Junior Chamber of Commerce-sponsored Operation SPIC will be concluded with a junior-size parade Saturday night when Jaycees, SPIC Chic Mary Lou Lutsch and members of her court, and two small musical units under the direction of Sandy Hansell and Paul Hannay will "sweep up" E. State st. sidewalks from Lincoln ave. to the Operation SPIC booth at 431 E. State st.

Jaycees will then remove the large banner across the street which has been reminding residents of the operation for two months, Horace Schwartz, general chairman of the campaign, said today.

Ohio Farmers Individualists

Want No Government Plan, Survey Shows

COLUMBUS, June 15—(AP)—Thirty-four per cent of Ohio farmers who voted in a recent Ohio Farm Bureau poll want no government plan for agriculture at all, President Everett F. Rittenour of Piketon, announced yesterday.

Thirty-nine per cent want no price supports and only 14 per cent favor the farm plan of Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan.

These were among the "startling" results disclosed in a poll of 6,940 Ohio farmers made during May. Eighty-seven per cent of those polled were Farm Bureau members.

Among other results disclosed by the poll were these:

Twenty-eight per cent believe farm surpluses should be allowed to take care of themselves.

Twenty-five per cent would go along with the Brannan proposal that farm income should be supported at a level which would guarantee farmers a rate equal to 100 per cent of parity or more.

Sixty-four per cent favor a flexible support program ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

Sixty-three per cent favor the principles of the present farm bill, although 49 per cent want it amended.

Farm Bureau officials said they were at a loss to explain "this strong trend" away from any farm program at all. After reviewing results of the poll yesterday, trustees voted to continue supporting the present farm program, the agricultural act of 1949.

On the question of how to deal with farm surpluses, Ohio farmers offered these suggestions: Promote research (94 per cent); store enough to stabilize the market (64); establish more cooperatives (57); give surpluses away for relief use (55), and encourage the development of animal agriculture (47).

New East End Water Line Now In Service

A new water line from Park to Fair streets has been placed in service on Maple street, B. V. BeVier, city water superintendent, said today.

The line eliminates the Fair ave. dead end, improving the standpipe service at Madison and State streets.

That end of the city should receive better water pressure. Mr. BeVier said.

Amerasia Case Cleared By Jury

Government Officials Win Acquittal

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—A special federal grand jury today cleared government officials and agencies of any shortcoming in the Amerasia stolen documents case.

At the same time, however, the jury called upon the Department of Justice to issue a detailed report on the case.

The panel has been investigating subversive activities for the past 18 months. During its sessions, it returned a perjury indictment against William W. Remington, former Commerce Department economist, and espionage indictments against Judith Coplon and Valentin Gubitchev.

The presentment charged that precautions against the theft of government papers had been "entirely inadequate." But it said that the jury had found no evidence that the Department of Justice was remiss in its prosecution of the Amerasia case, or that any official acted improperly by attempting to delay arrests.

The case involved the 1945 theft of 1,700 government documents, some of which were recovered by the FBI in the New York office of the magazine Amerasia, now defunct.

Aliens In U. S. Employ Abroad Held 'Bad Risks'

Senators Ask That Jobs Be Filled By Americans

WASHINGTON, June 15 — (AP)—State Department officials today promised careful study of a recommendation that the agency fire all the aliens it employs abroad and hire Americans instead for security reasons.

The recommendation came from Senators Green (D-RI) and Lodge (R-Mass), who traveled to Europe last month to survey the department's security set-up overseas. They said last night in a report to the senate:

"Aliens are the most likely means of foreign penetration and the effort to penetrate our security abroad is constantly growing."

The low pay the aliens in American employ receive "makes them a prey to bribery and pressure," the report added.

Green and Lodge went abroad as a special panel of the Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee which is investigating charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) that Communists and fellow travelers have infiltrated the State Department.

They took testimony from department officials in Paris, Frankfurt, Washington and New York.

"There was unanimous agreement among all the witnesses that all aliens now employed in American embassies, consulates and legations abroad should be replaced as rapidly as possible by Americans," the senators said.

They also recommended that "for security reasons it is desirable that the United States should own rather than lease its buildings abroad." That should be done so "special construction can be undertaken to provide a high degree of security for such sensitive areas as the code and cryptographic rooms."

State Department officials told a reporter the Green-Lodge recommendations will get very careful consideration.

The department said it now employs between 5,000 and 6,000 aliens at foreign posts around the world. Officials said they are assigned to non-secret work.

Lodge and Green said, however, that in many cases the aliens have access to confidential and secret material, and "often have not had a full field investigation."

Philippines Get U. S. Bases

Two Governments Conclude Agreement

MANILA, June 15—(AP)—U. S. military installations valued at $8,500,000 were given today to the Philippine government.

They consisted of utilities, barracks and other buildings at the Fort McKinley and Nichols field military reservations.

Under an agreement between the two countries the two bases are still under American title but will revert to the Philippines in March 1952.

A small number of American military personnel will stay at the bases to maintain them. It was emphasized by the Defense Department that no arms were involved in the transfer.

The two governments also have concluded negotiations on some naval bases in the Philippines.

The negotiations involved certain areas in Sangley point, Cavite which the U. S. Navy wanted to use pursuant to provisions of a military bases agreement.

In exchange the U. S. agreed to turn over to the Philippines certain naval areas in Marivelles and property and installations in Cavite City.

The Philippines retain territorial sovereignty over the naval bases.

School Patrols Will Be Guests At Theater

All members of the Salem school safety patrols will be given complimentary admissions to the State or Grand theaters on June 16 to 19, inclusive, it was announced today.

The boys may pick up their tickets at the Automobile Club office at 740 E. State st. They will be guests of N. I. Walken, theater manager, at any performance during the four days.

140 Berry Pickers Employed By O. S. E. S.

Trucks this morning carried 140 pickers, supplied by the Ohio Employment Service, to strawberry and rasberry patches north and south of Salem, A. S. Johnston, manager said.

The heaviest call for pickers is yet to come as a few warm days will bring the two crops on with a rush, when an anticipated 1,000 pickers will be needed, he said.

Conference On Parking Plan Set For Friday

Merchants, Officials Of City To Talk Over Restrictions

A meeting of downtown E. State st. merchants and city officials has been called for Friday noon at the Lape Hotel to discuss the experimental traffic program being put into effect.

Members of the City Planning Commission, the merchants and Civic committee, who approved the traffic resolution, are expected to be present to clarify and talk over the situation. Merchants have been getting together in small groups to debate the damaging effects of the parking restrictions..

Some merchants yesterday expressed dissatisfaction with the "no parking" limitations. One dealer has engaged an attorney to carry his appeal to council Tuesday. Another said the program would make State st. a ghost section.

Mayor Harry M. Vincent reiterated today that the program is a temporary measure and if the situation demands it the plan will be revised. But, he said, the merchants should make an effort to support the proposal.

The mayor said that the resolution is a forward step in the attempt to solve the serious traffic problem facing Salem. He said that to discard the plan without giving it a sincere try would place council in the same crisis it had been before.

The state highway department has ordered the city to find a solution to the traffic problem and will not help with the cost of paving E. State st. unless parking is prohibited on both sides of the street at certain intervals.

When signs are put up in the various restricted zones, motorists will be prohibited from parking there.

Lisbon Man Burned By Hot Asphalt

James Saunders, 54, of R. D. 5, Lisbon, is in fairly good condition today at Salem City Hospital where he is receiving treatment for third degree burns and scalp lacerations received Wednesday in a tar mishap in Rogers.

Saunders, an employee of the Ohio Tar and Asphalt Co. of Canton, was working on a road resurfacing project when the tar hose broke and sprayed him with the hot material. He then fell to the ground onto more hot asphalt material. He was treated by a Lisbon doctor and then brought to the hospital for X-rays and observation.

He is the father of Donna Saunders, 7, who died last September after she was struck by a truck Feb. 9, 1949, near her home as she was crossing the road to board a school bus.

YOUTH ELECTROCUTED

COLUMBUS, June 15 — Robert Byers, 18, of New Lexington, was electrocuted yesterday when he touched a crane charged with current from a nearby electric line.

Investigators Probe Sabotage Theory; 13 Survivors Counted

BAHREIN ISLAND, Persian Gulf, June 15—(AP)—Another big French passenger plane—the second in two days—crashed into the shark-infested Persian Gulf near here last night. At least 22 persons were killed in the new crash and 15 or 16 are still missing.

A crash of another Air France plane at almost the same spot Tuesday killed 46 persons. Since both planes were en route from Indochina, where Communists lead a revolt against the French, the possibility of sabotage has not been discarded.

Thirteen survivors, all French citizens, were rescued last night and this morning, including the five crew members. There were either 50 or 51 persons aboard.

The four-engined Air France C-54 Skymaster, bound from Saigon, Indochina, to Paris, crashed only a half-mile from the point where 46 persons were lost in the ditching two days ago of a sistership flying from Indochina.

(Air France said in Paris a dispatch from Karachi, Pakistan, the plane's last stop before last night's crash, reported that 43 passengers and eight crewmen were aboard the ship. First reports in Paris had said 45 persons were aboard).

Those rescued today included five crew members.

The circumstances of both crashes were similar. Both planes went down as they were preparing to land at Bahrein, 20 miles off Saudi Arabia's east coast. Each sent a last message announcing preparations to land, then was heard from no more.

Bad weather conditions prevailed on both occasions in this area of sudden, strong storms.

Tugs of the British-owned Bahrein Petroleum Company and local launches today were scouring the crash area for more survivors. A U. S. Air Force rescue plane also aided in the search.

The plane was lying in about 30 feet of water. Searchers believed the bodies of most of the missing still were trapped inside it. Early today a crane barge was moored over the submerged hulk in an effort to lift it from the water intact.

Last night's disaster brought to more than 100 the number of persons dead or missing in French air crashes in two days. Of these, 46 died in the first crash off Bahrein Tuesday. At least 37 are dead or missing from last night's crash..

Another 16 are missing from a French military plane which disappeared while on a flight between two cities in Madagascar. Three more persons were killed yesterday in the crash of a private plane near Constantine, North Africa.

Air France officials, already here to investigate Tuesday's crash, will open an investigation today of the latest disaster.

(Air France headquarters in Paris said one of the two pilots on last night's plane was among those saved. An early announcement said Robert Blamond, 44, was chief pilot of the ship.)

Shirley May France Leaves For Second Try At Channel

SOMERSET, Mass., June 15—(INS) — Shirley May France is setting out for England today and another try at swimming the English channel.

The plucky 17-year-old Somerset high school student, who has been waiting all winter for "another chance," says she is just as confident as she was on her first try last September and she added:

"I don't have the fear of not knowing what it will be like."

Last September 7th, the five foot eight and a half inch miss spent 10 hours and 40 minutes in the channel before her father, J. Walter France, forced her to give up.

Win or lose, she is returning to Somerset High next fall to finish her school studies. She hopes eventually to instruct in physical education.

Also sailing for England and a channel attempt is George "Scotty" Fraser, of Dennisport, a wounded Merchant Marine veteran and who swam his way back to health.

Lustron Deal In Legal Snarl

Circuit Court May Unravel Litigation

COLUMBUS, June 15—(AP)—A U. S. circuit court of appeals probably will be called upon within 48 hours to untangle a legal snarl in the affairs of the Lustron Corp., big prefab house firm.

This was the prediction of attaches at the U. S. district court here after these swift developments yesterday:

1. U. S. District Judge Mell G. Underwood said either the Justice Department would investigate operations of the $37,500,000 corporation or he would call a grand jury to do it.

2. The Reconstruction Finance Corp., chief Lustron creditor, took possession of the huge plant after Judge Underwood approved its sale to RFC for $6,000,000.

The RFC purchase was to protect its huge investment in Lustron. The firm was in default on $36,500,000 in RFC loans.

3. Twenty minutes after RFC took possession, U. S. District Judge Philip L. Sullivan in Chicago signed an injunction barring the RFC from taking possession of the Lustron plant.

Judge Sullivan acted at the behest of three Lustron dealers who had filed petitions of involuntary bankruptcy against Lustron.

Just which court has jurisdiction in the situation, none could say.

Brig. Gen. Julius Holmes

James K. Vardaman

JAMES K. VARDAMAN, one-time naval aide to President Truman, denies he had anything whatsoever to do with the Amerasia case. Denial follows reports that Brig. Gen. Julius Holmes, an assistant secretary of state when the case broke in 1945, told Senate investigators in Washington his best recollection was that Vardaman asked that the Amerasia prosecution be delayed. Vardaman is now a Federal Reserve board governor.

Volcano Gets Blame For Pacific Haze

HONOLULU, June 15—(AP)—A vast haze still hovered over the middle Pacific today, covering possibly two million square miles.

Scientists say it isn't an atomic mist since Geiger counters showed no radioactivity.

Just nature on a binge, they speculated. The finger of suspicion pointed at massive Mauna Loa, still spouting fire and brimstone as it enters its third eruptive week.

Mauna Loa, on the island of Hawaii, southeast of here, is putting on its greatest show of modern times. One river of red-hot rock still rolls into the sea; two others have cooled.

The mysterious cloud stretches from Wake Island, 2,000 miles west of Hawaii, to an area 1,900 miles east of Honolulu. Plane reports fixed the eastern boundary about 300 miles east of Hawaii. But officers of the freighter Hawaiian Fisherman said they ran into the haze last Friday 1,900 miles east southeast of Honolulu.

Wendell Morby, sugar and pineapple industry meteorologist, said tests showed a sulphate content. This points to volcanic origin, he said.

Truman Watches Marine Tactics

President At Quantico To View Maneuvers

QUANTICO MARINE BASE, Va., June 15 — (AP) — President Truman came here today for a first-hand inspection of modern Marine fighting power.

He sailed down the Potomac from Washington to witness picked units:

1. Assault a simulated enemy fortified position, demonstrating how the "Devil Dogs" reduce and capture a beach studded with concrete pillboxes, utilizing a large assortment of weapons from flame throwers to tanks and aircraft.

2. Demonstrate recently-developed helicopter technique. This included simulated carrier take-offs with men and equipment to be landed subsequently in "combat zones." It involved use of helicopters to put down the troops and move off again within 20 minutes.

The demonstrations drew not only the President and his party, but members of Congress and high ranking defense officials.

Nearly 1,000 youngsters at the American Legion's 14th Buckeye Boy's State are ready to get their simulated government rolling in high gear today. The legislators are chosen and most of the top appointments made. John Borton of Alliance was elected governor of the state.

Richard Sheeley of Beloit was chosen state senator and William O'Farrell of East Liverpool is speaker of the house. Governor Borton's cabinet includes two fellow townsmen Richard Galehouse, health director, and Myron Grossman, highway director, both of Alliance. He also named Richard Neff of Middletown, whom he defeated in the gubernatorial race, to the post of director of the bureau of unemployment compensation.

The permanent chairman of Borton's victorious party, the Federalists, was rewarded by appointment as adjutant general. He is Robert Maximo of Newton Falls.

No Immortality for Rent Control

FEDERAL rent control has become a bothersome corpse which its sponsors hope to keep above the ground until the congressional elections are over, next November. The principle of rent control has been obsolete for more than a year. The practice has been retained only for political reasons, with no clear justification in economics.

To understand what is involved in the issue, it is useful to look at an opposite kind of wartime control. During the war the federal government wanted to stimulate maximum production of food crops. The breadbasket of democracy had to be kept well-supplied. The idea was to make food prices high.

Support prices were boosted to the limit as a wartime policy. When the war was over the support prices stayed high. They are still higher than can be justified on any basis except politics, just as rent levels are lower. Politicians are afraid of getting on the bad side of the farm vote. They are equally afraid of the tenant vote. Hence, their fumbling attempts to handle the corpse of rent control. They are afraid to bury it, and they are afraid to keep it on view. From the standpoint of politics, it was a candidate for immortality. But from the standpoint of economics, it was mortal.

There are times when representative democracy has to grin and bear itself. The prolonged wake over the remains of rent control is one of them.

Our Way—Or Else

AMERICANS must realize their own welfare is concerned in any plan for helping European producers. That should not be hard to do after two world wars and the threat of a third—all sparked by European friction—and a generation of economic aid to ease the creeping poverty of Europe's backward economic systems.

The latest plan for economic cooperation in Europe is based on the idea that international control of iron and steel would help industrial production and do away with some of the friction between European governments. Offered by the government of France, it has been endorsed by the governments of Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and western Germany. But it has been turned down by Britain.

The reason for the British decision now has been revealed officially by the Atlee government. Here again Americans must realize their own welfare is concerned. The Atlee government turned down the plan because it did not call for government ownership of the coal and steel industries. It refuses to support any plan which does not include doctrinaire socialism, on the model favored by the British Labor party.

Americans will want to take a long, thoughtful look at this before they let their government go further with aid for the British economy. How long will it be until doctrinaire socialists in Britain gang up with doctrinaire Communists in Russia to tell the United States it must embrace state ownership or deal with systematic sabotage of its economic system?

Closed-Door Diplomacy

HAD THE door been closed on the past, there would have been no review of the Amerasia case. No questions would have been asked about the adroit handling of that bundle of political dynamite.

James K. Vardaman would have had no chance to testify before a congressional committee. There would have been no occasion to learn from the diary kept by the late James V. Forrestal that the diary and Vardaman's testimony were in conflict.

No second thought would have been given to the fact that many officials of the government were so anxious to keep the Russians in good humor in 1945 that they bent over backward. It would not have been called to mind again that the fundamental fault in relations with Russia was this intemperate reliance on appeasement to humor a government which was not appeasable. There would have been no opening of closed doors at all, if the custodians of the skeletons behind them had had their way.

Their bleats of indignation over what is no more than the normal curiosity of a free people about events of critical importance are becoming harder to condone every time another knob is turned. There is no place in the United States for closed-door diplomacy or for closed-door government.

We all know Western Europe can't arm itself, so this amounts to declaring we should allow European defenses to crumble to nothing while we confidently take upon our shoulders the burden of rescuing the whole free world—from American bases.

The American people no doubt would dearly love not to be involved beyond their shores; but most are sensible enough to know they can't escape being embroiled.

'American Guard'

By PETER EDSON

Indiana Movement Stirs Controversy

ANDERSON, IND.

THIS smokestack city in central Indiana is the home of "The American Guard" — one of the most controversial political reform movements in recent years.

The American Guard has been damned by the CIO as a native American fascist movement which might spread all over the United States. So far it is confined to Madison county.

The American Guard has been damned by local Democratic party leaders as a Republican offshoot of the Chamber of Commerce. Yet the Guard leaders say it is strictly bi-partisan and that it has been completely divorced from the Chamber of Commerce.

The American Guard movement is a little more than a year old. Two Anderson lawyers—C. O. Davisson, Republican, and Walter Bagot, Democrat, drew up its constitution and by-laws in April, 1949.

This formal action had followed several months of preliminary disctussion by Anderson business men. First the two had met at lunch and discussed the forming of a bi-partisan good government movement. The two drew in five other Democrats and five Republicans. These 12 got 12 more. The committee of 24 did the organizing.

One of the 24—who prefers to remain anonymous — suggested the name American Guard. He had served in the National Guard, and had been a student of martial law and use of the National Guard as the final defense of law and order. His thought was that the American Guard would protect American freedoms.

IT WAS PERHAPS an unfortunate choice of name. Before the war, there had been an attempt to organize an American Guard as a shirt organization with strong pro-Nazi leanings. It disappeared, but critics of the Anderson American Guard movement were quick to point out that the first user of the name had been fascistic.

The Anderson American Guard held its first meeting last August and opened for business in October. Its first and present executive director is Charles Harbaugh.

He is a clean-cut, dark-haired young Hoosier. He was born in Lafayette and was graduated from Purdue in 1936. He coached in public schools. He was in the Army from 1941 to 1945.

On discharge he went into Chamber of Commerce work, and had been secretary of the Anderson Chamber of Commerce for three years when he was offered the job of organizing the American Guard. He quit the Chamber of Commerce and went to work for the guard at $1000 a month.

The real impetus for organizing the American Guard in Anderson was the attempt to put through the Indiana State Legislature in 1949, a series of taxation and labor laws which the business community viewed with considerable alarm..

Few of these proposed bill were passed, since the State Senate was Republican-controlled, and it killed many of the measures introduced in the Democratic-controlled House.

BEHIND THIS, however. was a long series of events in city government which had stood the town on its ear. The municipally-owned power plant had been allowed to run down. Mayor Lester McDonald proposed a $6,000,000 bond issue to build a new power plant. The city already had a tax rate of $6.40 per $100—one of the highest in the state—and there was tax-payer protest.

It was claimed that a lesser expenditure to increase distribution facilities, plus purchase of current from private utilities, would make the bond issue unnecessary.

The Anderson public school system had been through long storm and strife. A Citizens Committee had tried to clean up the situation, but its recommendations had been thrown out by the mayor. The whole fracas had wound up in law suits still unresolved.

Also, an effort had been made to put over a local Fair Employment Practices Commission by city ordinance, after a similar measure had failed in state legislature.

Anderson labor is highly organized. CIO United Auto Workers were in the two biggest plants —Delco and Guide Lamp divisions of General Motors. And in their political action work they had achieved statewide dominance in the Democratic Party organization.

The Anderson Chamber of Commerce claimed that because of bad electric power, high power rates, bad school system and considerable labor and political trouble, new industries were avoiding the Anderson and Madison county area.

All this, as well as the controversy over the 1949 State Legislature's program, is what led to the American Guard. Its leaders felt that what they needed was political reform, via the democratic process.

NEXT: How they tackled their problem.

Having Wonderful Time

By TRUMAN TWILL

NOTES from happy vacationers are beginning to pour in—by limping dog team, lame pony-express and cut-back mailmen.

From the Seashore

It is wonderful here. The waves keep slapping against the rotted pilings. The customers keep slapping against their reddened skins. We go in bathing three times a day if we can get enough water. Nothing like sea food, thank goodness. Will be back as soon as we can get ourselves in shape for the retreat from Moss Cove..

From the Great Plains

Everything flat out here, including our heads. You should see the horses we ride. It would be very educational for both of you. We are lean and brown, like cadavers. The food is wonderful if you are fond of goose grease. This is the life, all right. It will be the death of all of us.

From the Open Road

We are stopping here for gas and another bottle of sedative tablets. Wonderful scenery — semi-trailers piled up in ditches, wrecked pleasure cars with tufts of human hair where the victims were catapulted through the windshields, beautiful ptomaine stands every half mile and tastefully decorated speed traps. Sure wish you were here because then I'd have to go back home. There wouldn't be room enough for both of us.

From the Mountains

Here is old Yrs. Truly on the Trail of the Lonesome Pine. The air up here is fine, if you can get any. They had me under an oxygen tent last night, but today I am able to do my own breathing again. Wonderful view in all four directions: Rain, rain, rain and snow. Natives say worst weather they can ever remember. Private investigation shows they can't remember anything that happened less than 50 years ago.

From the Wilds

You would love it here—home, I mean. Man strives and struggles for thousands of years to achieve inside plumbing and a modicum of comfort. Then on a mad impulse he plunges back into medievalism. What is worse, he does all this in the name of sport. Here, sport, let me look into the hole in your head. Will be home when the flies get tired and let go of me.

From a Fashionable Play Spot

Before I came here I wasn't sure what they meant when they said "playspot." It is a switch on cops and robbers. For a five-spot the playful robbers will not call the cops to have your pocketbook appraised as searchingly as they appraise you. If you have mud on your shoes, it will take a tenspot. I wonder what happens to all the money a place like this puts into circulation. They don't spend it on wages. The employes are on relief—that's me.

From Home

I will be back at work whenever they let me out of here. I still have a great deal of varnishing, painting, digging, cutting, cleaning, polishing, scraping, lifting, pulling and perspiring to do. I had thought of doing some resting, but disenchantment set in before lunchtime the first day. Sure wish you were here to help me move the piano.

It's Going to Be Tough Digging

Acheson Again Shows Military Traits

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON

Every time Dean Acheson, secretary of state, makes a speech endeavoring to outline America's world policy, he reveals unwittingly that the United States has no affirmative policy but solely a negative policy which offers watchful drifting as the only course to be pursued in the present critical situation in the world.

David Lawrence

Mr. Acheson is so imbued with the military approach that he talks more like a secretary of war than a secretary of peace. His reliance is primarily on military strength despite some vague references to economic and moral power.

The analysis which Secretary Acheson made of America's position in his latest speech at Dallas reveals:

1. That the United States government still fears Russia may make war but hopes to scare the Soviet leaders and deter them.

2. That the United States government denounces "appeasement" and yet looks forward to "meaningful negotiation."

The secretary said, for instance, that the international Communist movement does not create an immediate danger of war but is being used as a bludgeon and "does confront the world with the possibility that the Soviet leaders, whenever they feel that they are strong enough, may be tempted to make use of military force as an instrument of their policy — they may do this either generally, or in specific local situations."

-:-

HAVING STATED that broad premise, Mr. Acheson then proceeds to outline the four alternative courses he sees ahead — and, incidentally, omits a fifth, perhaps the most effective of all.

The first course he describes as a move "to pull down the blinds and sit in the parlor with a loaded shotgun, waiting." He calls this isolationism and says it will not work.

The second course he mentions is "the policy of appeasement of Soviet ambitions." He says this is an alternative form of isolationism. He declares this would "encourage Soviet aggression — it would lead to a final struggle for survival in which both our moral position and our military position would have been seriously weakened."

The third course, which he said might have been considered by another type of government and in earlier times in the world, is "preventive war." This, he explains, would involve dropping atomic bombs on the Soviet union now. He declares that "all responsible men must agree that such a course is unthinkable for us." He adds that this "would not solve problems — it would multiply them."

The fourth way of dealing with these matters, according to Mr. Acheson, "is to work on them in cooperation with other nations, and by means of peaceful negotiation to resolve our differences."

Mr. Acheson makes the point that so long as the Russian leaders "entertain hopes for early expansion into areas of weakness in the world, there is no likelihood of their entering into genuine agreements for the resolution of our common problems, or of honoring those agreements which we now have."

Then the secretary concludes that a "prior condition" to "meaningful negotiation" is to convince the Russian leaders "that they cannot profit from a policy of expansionism."

ADDED ALL UP, this means that Mr. Acheson thinks military power sooner or later will scare the Kremlin into submission to America's viewpoint, and that later on they will make agreements which will be honored.

The assumption is that the Kremlin's men of evil will change from bad to good as they see the armament of the Western Allies built up. This is the age-old theory of military philosophy. It has never made converts to virtue. Instead, it has stimulated rival countries to build armament strength and thus keep the world constantly in fear of sudden war.

Another important course of possible action is not referred to at all by Mr. Acheson. It is that a line be drawn for all time between the Kremlin and the Russian people and that the latter be encouraged to manifest their power so as to change their government's policies or to change their government. The outline of this plan was given in these columns on February 15 last. It is the very policy which helped to shorten World War I. It would have helped to shorten World War II as a prelude to German surrender. But today, as then, military thinking here is dominant.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Decline In Man's Potency

THE sex glands in both men and women are relatively inactive during the early years of life, start functioning during adolescence and reach a peak in a few years. For many years thereafter there is little change.

Dr. Jordan

In women the functioning of the sex glands starts to lessen as a rule in the early 40's and takes several years to complete. In men the question of functioning of the sex hormones is even more complicated.

Medical opinion is somewhat divided as to whether or not there is a rapid decrease in the functioning of the sex glands in men and if there is, at what age it occurs. Some physicians claim that while the activity of the male sex glands does slow up with advancing age, the slowing up is so gradual that one cannot properly speak of a true change of life in men.

Others believe that at least in some men a decrease in functioning of these glands may come fairly rapidly and produce symptoms which justify speaking of a male change of life. They believe that men go through this period somewhat later than women do—usually between 45 and 55.

Many men do not have any symptoms at all which can be attributed to decreased functioning of the sex glands. Those who do, however, may according to those who believe in a rapid change, have one or more of several symptoms.

Some describe a distinct feeling of tension with a sort of inward feeling of trembling, which is made worse by excitement or fatigue, exaggerated and unfavorable news. Arguments or slight disturbances which would not bother a person ordinarily may cause them to become nervous and flurried.

A great many men during this period may be restless and complain of sleeping poorly. Numbness and tingling of the hands or feet is common. Headaches of various kinds are a frequent complaint. It is claimed that the vancnig age, the slowing up is so ability to concentrate impaired.

A mild feeling of depression also seems to be common. Dizziness, palpitation of the heart, cold hands and cold feet, slight shortness of breath and sudden flushing of the face, neck and upper part of the chest are also mentioned.

Easy fatiguability may be present. Waning of the sexual powers, real or imaginary, is a frequent reason why men of this age consult their physicians.

Any of these symptoms may be the result of gradual rather than sudden change. Any of them also could come at other ages and from other causes.

Injections of the male hormone —testosterone propionate — when given in proper doses and frequency may help to relieve some of the symptoms mentioned.

More Alike Than Different

NEW YORK

IS THE THEORY of the American melting pot wrong?

Dr. Rachel Davis-Dubois, a South Jersey Quaker who has pioneered in developing techniques for intercultural relation, believes it erred in one respect.

Hal Boyle

"The melting pot theory, as it was interpreted years ago," she said, "meant that people coming here would cut themselves off from their cultural pasts.

"There was a pressure to think alike, do alike, and be alike. That would make our American culture thin indeed."

And what troubled Mrs. Dubois most was that children of minority groups grew up secretly or openly ashamed of the ways and customs of their parents. This created tension at home and at school.

The answer? Mrs. Dubois felt it lay in creating a feeling of pride in the child for his own cultural background, and a feeling of respect for the differing cultures of others.

SHE GOT an opportunity to test her beliefs in action several years ago at P. S. 165, a public school in Upper West Manhattan attended by children of 48 different nationalities. It was a tension area, and the melting pot wasn't melting very well. After two children were killed near the school, the aroused Parent-Teacher Association asked Dr. Dubois for help.

"I thought if I could just get the children to understand each other's background, the tension would be reduced," she said.

But how to do it? Preaching tolerance to children doesn't work any better than preaching it to grownups. Dr. Dubois' solution was "the parranda."

"The parranda in Puerto Rico," she explained, "is a kind of progressive party in which people go from one house to another."

She worked out a program under which a dozen or more children of varying nationalities were released from school once a week from noon until 3 o'clock. During this time they had lunch at the home of one parent and went on to dessert at the home of another. The first home might be Finnish or Puerto Rican. The second might be Irish or Jewish.

"In each home," she said, "the children sample the food, sing songs, engage in games and dances and learn about the customs of their host.

"A teacher goes along, but just as another participant. The kids think of it as a real party. No sermons against prejudice are made. They experience brotherhood—so there is no need for talking about it."

-:-

AFTER EACH PARRANDA the children report to their social study classes what they have learned. The parrandas have proved so popular with both children and parents that Mrs. Dubois has undertaken a similar program at another tension area school.

Here is what a few students have written about the parrandas in their own school paper:

"We may do things differently but we do them for the same reasons."

"You thought at first you did not like them, but you found out differently after you met the people."

"We are more alike than different."

But Mrs. Dubois, a dark-eyed, graying woman of middle age, treasures most the tribute given her by a policeman stationed near the school.

"I don't know what you ladies are doing," he said, "but since you've been coming up here I don't have so many fights to settle."

Dr. Dubois takes this as real proof of her thesis that—"differing cultures enrich American life."

Amerasia Case In Jury's Hands

Report May Be Near On Stolen Documents

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—A mystery-shrouded grand jury investigation of the Amerasia magazine case reached its climax today.

A special federal grand jury, which has been investigating the 1945 stolen documents episode for the past two weeks, will be discharged after 18 months' work.

Department of Justice officials gave no indication whether the grand jury would act on the case in its last day.

But Jury Foreman John G. Brunini told newsmen to "be sure to be around" at the windup.

During its 18 months the grand jury has been hearing cases of subversive activities, and has handed up several important indictments.

As time was running out on it, the jury started looking into the 1945 discovery of secret government documents in the New York office of Amerasia, now defunct, and the legal aftermath.

Critics of the justice department have charged it was lax in handling the cases of six persons arrested in the case.

Perfume That Clings!

Q.—Dear Penny: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other, its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. A. W.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily ,and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance. Try this Houbigant Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.75, plus tax. McBane - McArtor Drug Store.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Oh—My Aching Feet!

Other night just as I was settling down with a book and a mellow glass of beer, the wife calls down, "Joe—I almost forgot—you and I are going over to the High School and take dancing lessons!"

Now, I can waltz with the best of them, so I put up a quiet struggle against going but it was no use. Turns out it was the class in square dancing. And from the look on some of the other men I judged I wasn't the only one there who had been taken by surprise!

Miss Williams and Curly Lawson taught us what to do with our feet, and before it was over, darn if I wasn't actually enjoying myself. Going back next week, too!

From where I sit, we sometimes get an idea into our head for or against something and then hang onto it for dear life. Whether it's square dancing, or the right to enjoy temperate beer or ale now and then, we owe it to ourselves as Americans to take an open-minded attitude — that's even after we make up our minds about it!

Men Say Secret Of Old Age Is Marriage

TARENTUM, Pa., June 15 — (AP)—Here's some propaganda favoring women looking for husbands.

A poll of 90 octogenarians disclosed last night that 88 of 90 men were married. The men, ranging in age from 80 to 97, were guests at the annual banquet held for community oldsters by the Kiwanis Club and the Tarentum Valley Daily News.

Asked how to reach an advanced age, the men roared in chorus:

"Get married."

This Is Corny Story; Farmer's Pig Canned

LAWTON, Okla., June 15 — (AP)—This little piggy went to market . . . This little piggy stayed home . . . This little piggy had roast beef . . .

But this little piggy had kaffir corn . . .

And she had too much of it.

Little piggy Bertha — which weighs only 35 pounds — was bouncing around farmer Bob Becks' farm when she slammed into a five gallon milk can.

The can toppled over, and the milk—mixed with the rich kaffir corn feed — started spilling onto the ground.

So Bertha tasted it. Bertha liked it. And she ate her way right into the can.

Then her full tummy refused to let Bertha free herself.

A veterinarian was called.

His advice: "Leave her alone, keep her cool—and everything will work out all right."

It did. Bertha scrambled out eight hours later.

YESTERDAY'S STARS: Batting, Dave Philley, White Sox—Hit three-run homer off Joe Page in last of ninth inning for 5-2 Chicago victory. Pitching, Max Lanier, Cards—Won fourth straight game with six-hitter against Phils, 4-2, striking out eight.

—by— LAWTON CARVER —INS—

Where were we when we were so rudely interrupted by the way the Cardinals are winning in baseball, Ben Hogan's National Open vistory and other such odds and ends.

It seems as though we were talking about the heavyweight boxing situation, which has had a recent development.

It seems that Joe Louis is ready to die for dear old Rutgers, in the form of the International Boxing Club, for a payday based on a possible million dollar gate.

Joe isn't doing so well with a circus in Canada due to bad weather and is disinterested in negotiating a new contract for a smaller fee than he has been getting.

While he thus is wending his way to a quick finish as a circus performer his associate, Jim Norris, head of the IBC, is looking for a million dollar gate in September at Yankee Stadium, New York.

Norris is looking right at Louis and reminding all and sundry that Louis has said he will do whatever the IBC feels he must do in the interest of filling the rapidly emptying coffers.

The IBC is going to make a pass at Ezzard Charles for a match with Lee Savold—but it will be a quick and furtive pass.

What the IBC really wants is not Charles but a fight between Louis and Savold, the well-known British Empire version of a heavyweight champion.

The NBA recognizes Charles, but if Louis, who retired undefeated, makes a comeback, he or his victor must be recognized and it looks more and more every day as though Charles and his ailing heart muscle are about to be shelved.

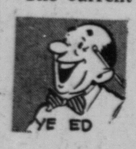

The actual truth probably is that Louis would prefer not to fight again. But he can use a dollar as well as the next one and the sheer appeal of a comeback by him would pack the joint.

Thus from strictly a business standpoint, Louis should make a comeback. You can wager that the pressure will be put on him now. Boxing is in a terrible slump in these immediate parts and the IBC could use a million dollar gate along about now.

Dixon's Daily Dozen

• What's the best way to go about learning to play golf well? Ans.: Not from books, believe us.

• The current pile of golf instruction books flooding the market is likely to drive would-be Hogans crazy. They're all conflicting.

• You pick up one of these volumes, written by a famous pro, and all you want to know is how to correct your slice. Your intentions are honorable and your mind is clear.

• So what happens? One pro tells you to "get your hands through," whatever that is. The next says your feet aren't placed right.

• A third, bless his ol' heart, informs you that you're gripping the club wrong. Well, maybe they're all right.

• So add up each instruction, memorize them all, keep them all in mind as you swing your driver. You guessed it: Another slice.

• Maybe you should have left out one of the instructions, figuring that one act is throwing you off. But you don't know which one is the culprit. Pretty soon you're hacking at the ball in your old way.

• It's less mental strain that way.

• It must be the same way in baseball. There's a new story out every day to the effect that "Joe Zilch promises to come out of his slump now that Coach Homer Hackensack has told him to flex his deltoid muscles as he strides away from the ball."

• Joe continues in his slump though, until he works his way out of it automatically. Those "invaluable" tips just don't work for Joe.

• Golf is much the same way, we guess. If you don't stick to one instructor exclusively or one book, you're cooked.

• On second thought, the only way to be a good golfer is to start out as a caddy. 'Never seen one yet that couldn't hit the ball a mile.

Joe Page Is Biggest Concern To Yankees

Relief Star Loses 2 In Row

Cleveland Homers Sink Red Sox In 7-3 Win

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

What ever happened to Fireman Joe Page of 1949—the greatest relief pitcher ever?

Recent work of the New York Yankees' bullpen artist reminds fans of the Page of 1948—and in-and-outer who flopped after a glorious pennant year in 1947.

Highest priced of all Yankee pitchers with a $30,000-plus wage, Page failed the world champs yesterday for the second day in a row. With Manager Casey Stengel struggling along on a seven-man staff, Page's trouble is most serious. Last western trip they won nine in a row. Now they've lost the first two.

Bothered by a sinus infection during the long home stand, Page saw little action. He had a week's rest before Stengel tried him in Chicago Tuesday night. Joe didn't have it.

Allie Reynolds was one out away from victory yesterday when the White Sox caught up with him. With two gone in the ninth and New York leading, 2-1, a single and walk by pinch hitters Floyd Baker and Luke Appling and a single by Chico Carrasquel tied the score.

Stengel took the ball from Allie and waved in Page. Joe's third pitch to Dave Philley sailed into the lower left field seats for a three-run homer and the ball game, 5-2.

The Tigers clung to their half game lead despite an 8-2 defeat by Philadelphia. Lou Brissie, whose only previous win came May 27 when he stopped a New York nine-game win streak, turned in a neat six-hit job against the league leaders.

-:-

THE ATHLETICS handed Dizzy Trout his first loss, with Elmer Valo and Eddie Joost hitting home runs. Slender consolation for the Tigers was the feat of Hoot Evers extending his consecutive game hitting streak to 19.

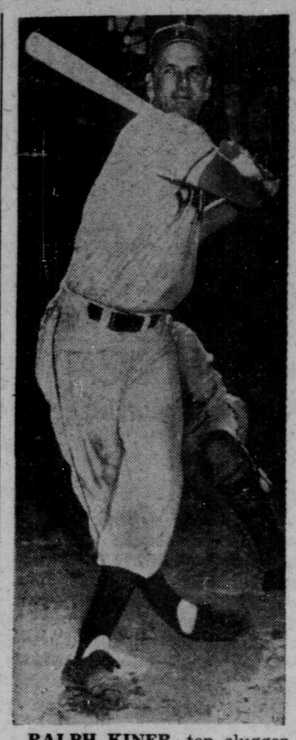

Five homers featured the night game between Cleveland and Boston, won by the Indians, 7-3. Larry Doby, Al Rosen and Lou Boudreau were the long distance clouters for Cleveland, Vern Stephens and Ted Williams for the Red Sox. Williams collected No. 19 off Mike Garcia in the third with one on.

Ellis Kinder continued to throw that gopher ball up to the plate, yielding all three Cleveland homers. Boudreau's was his first of the season. Garcia gave the Sox only five hits.

Conrad Marrero held St. Louis to four hits as Washington thrust the Brownies into the cellar with a 4-1 victory. The Senators had lost seven straight to St. Louis.

National League activity consisted of one night game. Rain washed out the rest of the schedule.

The onrushing St. Louis Cardinals racked up their seventh straight win behind Max Lanier. The chunky southpaw let down the Phillies with six hits, 4-2, as St. Louis stretched its lead to 3½ games over idle Brooklyn.

RALPH KINER, top slugger of the major leagues, exhibits his power-laden swing as he awaits his slugging match with Ted Williams, to be staged before the Pirate-Red Sox night game at Forbes Field June 26.

Shorties

The Cleveland Browns and the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League will play an exhibition game in Buffalo on Labor Day, Sept.. 4. Attendance may show how Buffalo pro football fans feel about the National League after a cooling-off period. There was considerable bitterness when the NL gobbled up most of the former All-America Conference without taking in the Buffalo Bills.

Tribe Trades Vernon To Nats For Weik

CLEVELAND, June 15—(AP)—Cleveland's Indians come up to the trading deadline at midnight tonight with a 12-man pitching staff of which 22-year-old Dick Weik is the newest member.

Weik, a former resident of suburban Lakewood, came to the club yesterday in a trade that sent first baseman Mickey Vernon back to the Washington Nationals.

"We can go along with 12 pitchers for a while," General Manager Hank Greenberg said, "but I won't say we'll go with 12 pitchers for very long." Normally only 11 of the 25 players to which the club is limited are hurlers.

Manager Lou Boudreau said he intends to use Weik in a relief role, but hopes to develop him into a starter. "All he needs is control. If he gets that he will be a great pitcher," Boudreau said of the six-foot-four righthander.

Washington gave Weik a $5,000 bonus to sign in 1942, but he went into the Navy and didn't start his minor-league seasoning until 1946. He pitched in relief spots until late in the 1949 campaign when he became a regular starter. That year he had a 3-12 record with the Nats. So far this campaign, he has won one and lost three.

Vernon, who said he's "sorry to leave the Indians" was with Washington from 1939 until he came to the Tribe along with Early Wynn before the 1949 season opened. Washington got first baseman Eddie Robinson and pitchers Joe Haynes and Ed Klieman on that deal.

Vernon led the league in hitting in 1946 with .353. He batted .291 as the Tribe's regular first-sacker last year but was hitting only .189 this season, when he has been on the bench more than half the time.

A 50-point improvement in rookie Luke Easter's batting average on the road trip just ended apparently convinced the Tribe's leaders they could stick with Easter for the first-base job and let Vernon go.

Won't Permit TV At P. G. A. Tourney

COLUMBUS, O., June 15—(AP)—Direct radio broadcasts or telecasts of the PGA golf tournament here next week won't be permitted, Mayor James A. Rhodes, chairman of the sponsoring committee, said yesterday.

The tournament will be held June 21-27 at the Scioto Country Club.

"This tournament is for charity," the mayor declared. "Unless we got a price that would cover potential admission losses through radio-television coverage, we could not consider permitting tournament play to be described."

Tournament officials explained the ban on radio and television play-by-play coverage would not infringe on the normal functions of radio and television news departments.

"Periodic progress reports by staff announcers, tape and film transcriptions for night-time playback and color programs from the scene will be permitted, subject to certain limitations," Rhodes said.

"However, any commercially-sponsored radio or television show, built entirely around PGA material, is prohibited unless the tournament receipts are benefitted by fees paid into such shows."

The Ohio State Journal said today it was told by Ben Hogan, National Open champion, that he does not plan to appear at the PGA tournament. The newspaper quoted Hogan as saying in a telephone interview from New Rochelle, N. Y.:

"It's just too long a grind for me to try to tackle. I don't have any golf plans after this week. When I feel like I'm able to play I'll be back in there."

WANTS BOXING BAN

Because of what he called "clear cut evidence that boxing causes irreparable damage to the brain," Dr. Arthur Steinhaus has advocated removal of the sport from the YMCA program. The former president of the American Academy of Physical Education spoke yesterday at a "Y" leaders conference in Lakeside, O.

The Rochester Red Wings baseball team joined the International League in 1885.

Pacific Coast Ready To Renew Bowl Pact

VICTORIA, B C., June 15—(AP)—The Pacific Coast Conference is ready to renew its Rose Bowl pact with the Big Ten and to open the gates to television—with a few reservations.

The conference wound up its annual summer session here yesterday but had to take a rain check on the television program. Its athletic directors disclosed they would gather again in San Francisco July 2 to set up the TV program.

What they did here was set their policy on telecasting, agreeing to permit live television of conference football games in 1950. Directly affected are the five schools in Los Angeles, the San Francisco Bay area and Seattle. The four others enter the picture as sharers in the profits from telecasting.

On the Rose Bowl agreement with the Big Ten, which ends with the next Jan. 1 game, the coast loop will ask its rival conference to send its best team to the bowl every year. During the current five year agreement the Big Ten has not permitted any team to appear more than once in three seasons.

Rose Bowl committees of the two circuits will confer June 21 at Madison, Wis.

Hogan Is Hard To Write About

Wants No Mention Of His Battered Legs

By GAYLE TALBOT.

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—Writing about Ben Hogan and, at the same time, remaining on good terms with the wonderful little golfer has, all of a sudden, become something of a problem.

The man who made the greatest comeback in sports history by winning the Open championship in a play-off at Merion last Sunday does not wish his old friends of the press to mention his legs—the legs which were crushed and torn in an auto-bus crash in Texas some 17 months ago.

After he had tied for the title on Saturday night, he suggested rather mildly that sufficient had been written about his injuries and that the reading public might have had its fill.

When he won it on Sunday night he was much more emphatic. not to say sulphuric, in his demand that the assembled members of the press "lay off" his legs. There was no possible doubt that he meant every word he said.

But it was, of course, too tall an order. Great as was their admiration for the slight Texan, both for the magnificent golf he had just played and for the courage he had exhibited, the reporters knew there was no possible way of capturing the magnitude of Hogan's feat without telling of the dreadful hurts he had overcome.

So they wrote it, and Ben doubtless became a little more angry each paper he picked up. Why he feels so strongly about the matter is not clear, for there never was a suggestion that he wished or would accept sympathy, nor that he would cop an alibi in the event of defeat.

LONG EXPERIENCE with athletes of every strain does not recall a close parallel. To be sure, there have been those sweaty heroes who smiled through their pain and said "it don't amount to nothing," or even remained stoically silent when they were prodded about their afflictions. But never one before this who became downright red-necked at the suggestion he wasn't in prime physicial condition.

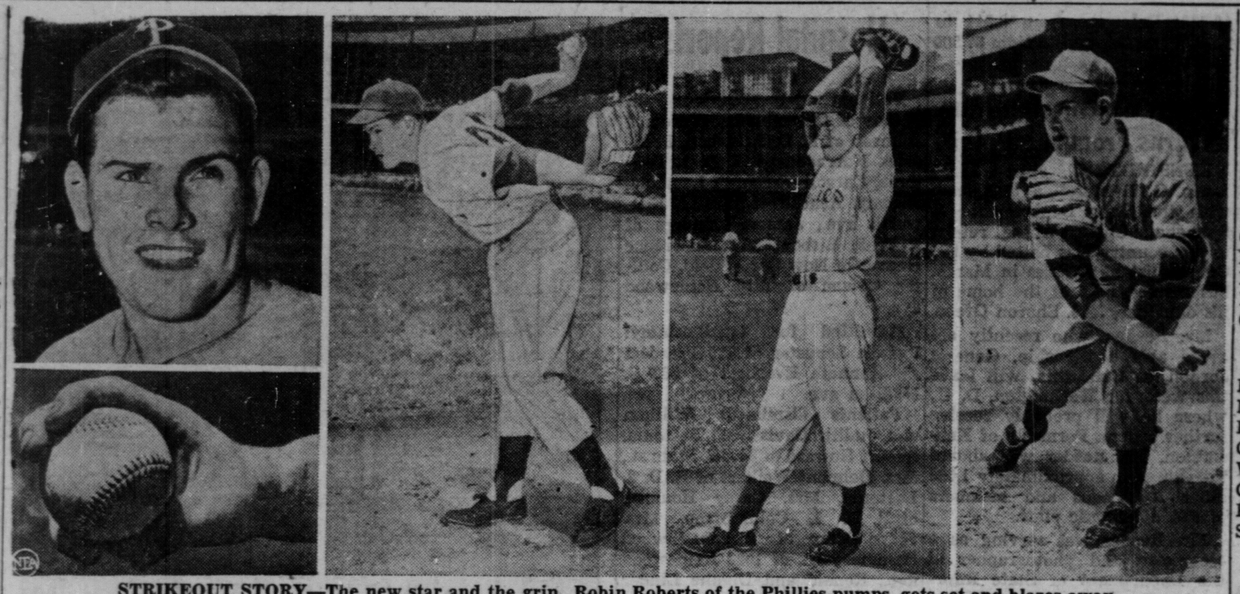

Outside this strange fixation, which is enough to get him tossed out of the AIU (Athletes' International Union), the bantam who came back from the shadows is a more engaging personality than he was before the accident.

He smiles more readily, exhibits a new found sense of humor and generally acts like a man who is happy to be alive—as indeed, he probably is. He sits still for expansive interviews and signs autographs with relish. He has the gallery behind him as he never had before, and he should become increasingly popular with each tournament he plays.

He might even be a greater golfer than he was before he was injured. His stroking could not have improved, but during those months in an El Paso Hospital he might have thought up some refinements in golfing strategy.

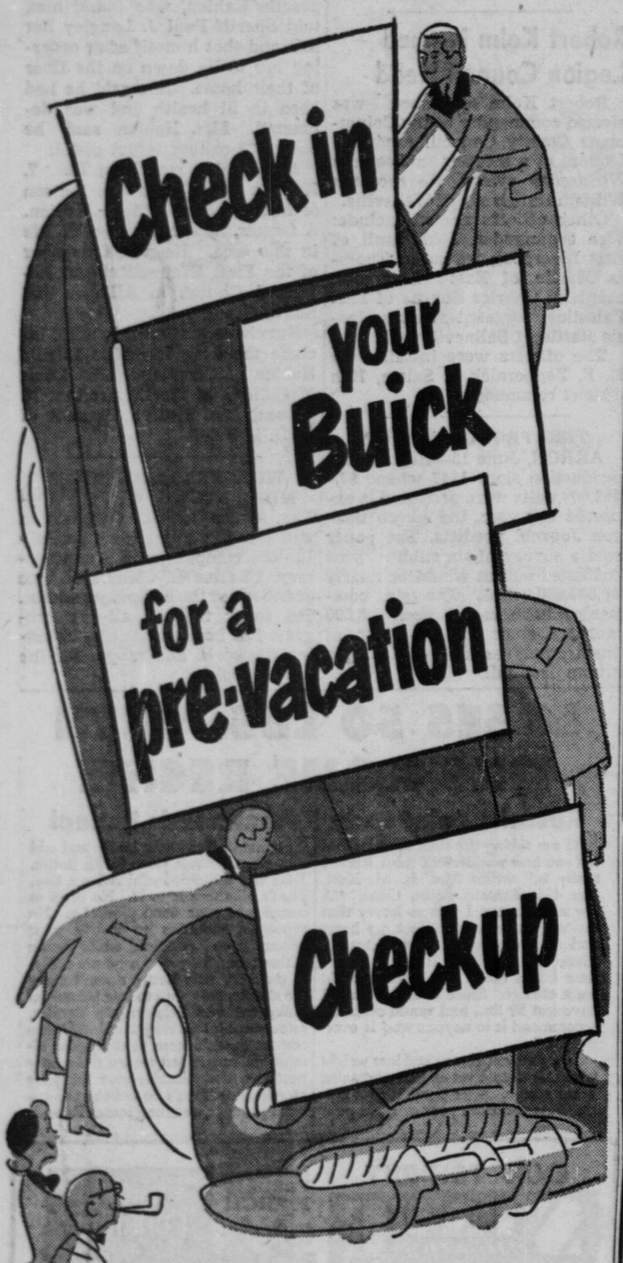

In mind is the way he went about beating Lloyd Mangrum and George Fazio in their playoff. Nowadays the touring money pros almost invariably "go for the flag" on every approach shot. Through experience on the cash-and-carry circuit they know that pars are not good enough—that it takes birdies in large numbers to win nowadays.

But Ben, in play-off, deliberately went back to the old formula—made famous by Bobby Jones—of merely shooting for the green and making certain he hit it. He knew Merion was dangerous, that a player could drop two or even three strokes by trying to cut a corner. So he shot for his pars and got 15 of them. His two birdies were that much gravy. It was brainy golf and it paid off.

Muscles Russell AA's Top Batter

One of the season's oddities is noted in the first round batting averages for Class AA softball. Wayne "Muscles" Russell, Bliss pitcher, is currently leading the loop's hitters with a lusty .611 average.

He has rapped out 11 hits in 18 AB's, also leading the league in total hits. Sarge Ware of the Electric Furnace has 10 hits.

Behind Russell is Bob Jeffries, lanky Sanitary third sacker, with a .474 mark, followed by Harry Ehrhart of The Hub, who is hitting .450.

Only those players who have batted 15 times or more are listed.

Merchants Drubbed By E. Palestine 16-1

Smashed for 15 hits by East Palestine and held to two themselves, the Salem Merchants took a crushing 16-1 defeat Wednesday night at Centennial park in a county league game.

Six runs in the third frame put the game on ice for the visitors, who rapped three home runs.

Salem will practice at 6:30 Friday evening at the park and will play at Lisbon stadium at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in a loop tilt.

Buying Power Climb Predicted By Senators

WASHINGTON, June 15 — (AP)—Three high-ranking senators agreed today with the Committee For Economic Development (CED) that the buying power of the average American worker can be doubled in the next 30 years.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), chairman of the joint committee on the economic report, said prospects for reaching the objective are "more than good." Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Flanders (R-Vt) were more cautious.

The CED is a businessman's planning agency with which Flanders formerly was affiliated. It issued its report on future income possibilities yesterday.

"The increase in real wages and standard of living proposed by CED is entirely within the range of possibility," Taft said, "but the policies which they propose to accomplish these purposes are so general they will not be very helpful to anyone who has to help run the government."

New Boston Loses Its Claim As 'City'

PORTSMOUTH. June 15—(AP)—City fathers in neighboring New Boston today were pondering how they'll handle affairs now that New Boston won't be a "city" anymore.

Preliminary census figures released yesterday showed New Boston dropped in population from 6,024 to 4,750 this year.

A "city" needs to have 5,000 persons to qualify in that category. Because it fell below that minimum, New Boston stands to lose two councilmen, its city solicitor, health board and relief office—but not until 1952 when their terms expire. It will also cut policement and firemen off civil service and probably throw their pension plans into the courts for a test of their validity.

Portsmouth also suffered a sharp population drop during the decade. The 1950 figures show the city had only 36,655, compared to 1940's 40,466.

Other cities whose population figures have been made known by census officials included: Youngstown, 167,643 this year against 1940's 167,720; Toledo, 301,372 in 1950 against 282,249 ten years ago.

Gains registered included: Newark, 31,487 in 1940 to 34,178 this year; Ashland from 12,453 to 14,277; Coshoction from 11,509 to 12,538; Delaware from 8,944 to 11,785, and Zanesville from 37,500 to 40,372.

Former Kensington Man Returns From Shanghai

KENSINGTON, June 15 — Lorin G. Reeder, a technician with the State Department in Shanghai, China, whose return to this country was halted by the Communist authorities in March, has arrived here at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Sharon Green.

Mr. Reeder, who recently arrived aboard the ship, General Jordon, in California, will leave this week for Washington, D. C., where he will probably receive further orders. Formerly of Kensington, Mr. Reeder was aboard the ship with approximately 1,600 other Americans and members of the diplomatic staff.

Mr. Reeder was serving as a technician and photographer at the Department of State Information Service offices in Shanghai. He had been in charge of all printing and photographic processing there since 1945 and was official photographer for the U. S. Embassy.

The verdict in Mr. Hahlen's death was not announced by Mahoning County Deputy Coroner Nathan Belinky. Hahlen was found dead Tuesday with a gunshot wound in his head at his farm home four miles North of Sebring. His wife, Mrs. Marguerite Hahlen, who found him, told Sheriff Paul J. Russells Point Lady Recommends Rennel

"I am taking the time to write and tell you how wonderful I think Rennel really is," writes Mrs. L. M. Neal, Box 495, Russells Point, Ohio. "A few months ago I was so heavy that my weight began to affect my heart and after dieting without success, a friend told me about Rennel. By the time I had taken one bottle I could see a change. Since taking Rennel I have lost 50 lbs., and would certainly recommend it to anyone who is overweight."

After purchasing a bottle of Rennel from your druggist pour the contents into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. A Trick For French Fries

Here's a new trick to help you send French fried potatoes to the table golden-brown, crisp and piping hot. The secret is to fry the potatoes twice, using one of the new deep fat frying thermometers to keep the temperature exactly right. First the potatoes are partially cooked at a temperature of 360 degrees F. This can be done several hours before mealtime. Then just before serving, the potatoes are popped into fat heated to 390 degrees F. for about two minutes.

CRUSTY-brown French fried potatoes can add a touch of glamour to everyday or company meals. But all too often they are limp and lukewarm by the time they are ready to serve.

What to do? Try a new cooking method which gets French fries to the table golden-brown and piping hot. It's a simple little trick, accomplished by frying the potatoes twice. The first time they are partially cooked, and this can be done an hour or two before mealtime. Then just before serving, the partially cooked potatoes are returned to the frying kettle for about two minutes. By reducing the last minute preparation time, the potatoes go from the frying kettle to the table—crisp and hot.

Since the success of French frying depends upon heating the fat to exactly the right temparatures, a deep fat frying thermometer is essential.

Here are the easy directions for cooking potatoes the "twice-fried" way:

"Twice-Fried" Potatoes

Pare the potatoes and cut lengthwise into thin strips. (Allow one medium-sized potato for each person to be served.) Soak the strips in cold, lightly salted water and dry carefully between towels. Heat deep fat to 360 degrees F. Place a layer of potatoes in the frying basket and lower into the hot fat. Cook until delicately browned, about 5 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper toweling. Repeat this process until all the potatoes are cooked.

Just before serving, reheat the fat to 390 degrees F. Fry the potatoes, a layer at a time, for about two minutes or until they are crisp and brown. Drain on absorbent paper and sprinkle with salt. Serve immediately.

WHY IS FONDUE DIFFERENT?

Do you know the difference between a souffle and a fondue? There's really only one difference. A fondue has bread crumbs and a souffle doesn't. Both are a delicate and light mixture of eggs flavored with cheese, vegetables, fish or meat. Either makes a perfect hot dish to team up with a big tossed green salad, milk, plenty of enriched or whole grain yeast bread, and margarine or butter. All you need to round out this tasty spring lunch is fruit and cookies.

Because cheese and canned corn are both abundant, the United States Department of Agriculture recommends a corn and cheese fondue. Here's the recipe.

Corn and Cheese Fondue

1/3 c bread cubes
1½ c cream-style corn
2 t minced onion
2 t chopped green pepper
¾ c finely grated cheese
½ t salt
2 eggs well beaten
½ c hot milk

Blend all ingredients. Pour the mixture into a greased casserole dish or loaf pan that can go from oven to table. Set casserole or pan in a pan of hot water. Bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) until set—about one hour. Serve immediately. Serves four.

HINTS TO THE WISE

To make a gingersnap crust for chiffon pies mix a cup of fine gingersnap crumbs with a quarter cup of melted butter or margarine. Press down firmly in an eight-inch pie pan—covering bottom and sides — and bake in a moderate oven for about 10 minutes. Cool before adding filling.

More Than 2,000,000 Contented Customers Buy "Super-Right" Meats at A&P Every Day!

TO PAMPER porkers and steers with plenty of corn . . . to cater to the tastes of calves and lambs, too?

TO TRIM excess waste and fat with extra care and skill so you'll get a maximum of good eating for your money?

TO TAKE only a small profit per pound in order to give you meats of outstanding quality that are grand values, too?

Corn-fed pork and beef, milk-fed veal, and well-nourished lamb are just about the tenderest, tastiest, juiciest meats you ever ate. They're the only kind A&P's experts select for our "Super-Right" Meat Departments, so it's not surprising that contented customers keep coming back for more. You will, too . . . once you've discovered how delicious "Super-Right meats always are. We could sell cheaper, inferior grades of meat. Hamburgers Better With Homemade Buns

The first sign of warm weather sends flocks of picnickers out to the woods, the parks, the highways—or just into the backyard for supper outdoors. The al fresco season is on.

Every year, picnickers try to think up something different to fill the bill of fare, but invariably they end up with hamburgers. And why not, they always make a hit. If you want to make a smash hit when you plan outdoor meals, don't discard the old favorite, hamburger. Instead, dress it up with homemade hamburger buns. They're fun to make and oh so good. Here's the recipe.

HAMBURGER BUNS

¾ c milk
¼ c sugar
2¼ t salt
4½ T shortening
¾ c lukewarm water
2 packages active dry yeast or 2 cakes compressed yeast
4½ c sifted all-purpose flour

Scald milk, add sugar, salt, and shortening and stir until dissolved. Cool to lukewarm. Put lukewarm water into a large bowl and sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Let stand until dissolved, about 5 to 10 minutes, stir. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in 2¼ cups of the flour and beat until smooth. Add remaining 2¼ cups flour and mix thoroughly. Turn dough out on lightly floured board and knead until dough is tightly stretched and shiny, feels springy and elastic and does not stick to the board. Place in greased bowl and brush top lightly with melted shortening.

Cover with towel, let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until double in bulk, about 50 minutes. When doubled in bulk, punch down and turn out on to lightly floured board, divide in two parts and roll each part into a circle about ½ inch thick. Cut into rounds with a 2½ inch cookie cutter. Brush lightly with margarine or butter. Place on greased baking sheet about 1 inch apart, cover with a towel and let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 30 minutes. Bake in a hot oven of 425 degrees F., about 20 minutes.

June Is Dairy Month

IF there's anyone as busy as bees during the month of June, it's the Holsteins and the Jerseys and the Guernseys—the producers of nature's wonderful food, milk. During June, milk production hits an all-time high. And during June, proclaimed as Dairy month, milk is at its wholesome best.

So bring out a loaf of enriched or whole-grain yeast bread, some margarine or butter, and a quart of milk. This combination of nourishing foods can't be beat. Nothing tastes better in the middle of a summer morning or a hot afternoon than a bread and butter sandwich and a glass of milk. And what could be better for you? Enriched or whole-grain yeast bread supplies your body with tissue-building protein, important vitamins such as thiamine, niacin, and riboflavin, and the blood-building mineral, iron. Fortified margarine or butter as a spread insures a supply of vitamin A, and fresh whole milk is rich in body-building protein and the valuable minerals, calcium and phosphorous.

Look to nourishing but simple sandwiches and milk as bedtime snacks, as well as mid-morning and mid-afternoon pickups. Let the children serve the nourishing sandwiches and milk to their young kindergarten friends. And if you cut them in fancy shapes with cookie cutters, these simple sandwiches will take on new interest.

If there are young children in your family, and the adults like highly seasoned food, be sure to add the seasonings after the children's portions are taken off. In this way it is not necessary to cook two sets of dishes.

Feeding Father

Apple Cheese Pie . . . Father's Day treat.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

GIVE Pop the kind of food he really likes on Father's Day. There's nothing more popular with most men than apple pie for dessert, but if you top it with that glamor dairy food—vanilla ice cream—it will be doubly Dad's dish. Use some of the good green summer apples for the filling that follows, and sweeten them with brown sugar for a different touch. Scent them with cinnamon.

Another twist to apple pie that Dad will enjoy is to flavor the pastry delicately with cheese. Here's the recipe.

Apple Cheese Pie a la Mode

Ingredients: 1 quart bulk vanilla ice cream, 1 recipe cheese pastry, 6 to 8 medium sized apples, ½ to ¾ cup brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon lemon juice, dash nutmeg, 2 tablespoons butter.

Method: Place ice cream in freezing compartment of refrigerator until ready to serve. Peel and core apples: slice into eighths. Combine with sugar, cinnamon, salt, lemon juice and nutmeg. Divide cheese pastry in half. Roll out and line a 9-inch pie pan with 1 part of pastry dough. Fill with apple sugar mixture and dot with butter. Roll out remaining portion of pastry dough and place over apples. Moisten undercrust slightly; press top and bottom crusts together. Trim ½ inch from edge of pie pan. Turn under ends and flute edge. Prick top crust with fork in several places. Bake in moderate (350 F.) open for 40 to 45 minutes or until golden brown. Serve warm or cold with generous scoops of vanilla ice cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Cheese Pastry

Ingredients: 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup butter, 1-3 cup shortening, ½ cup grated American cheese, ¼ to 1-3 cup cold water.

Method: Mix flour and salt. Cut in butter, shortening, and cheese with 2 knives or pastry blender. Add ¼ cup water, work into flour mixture (add more water if necessary). Pat gently into a ball. Divide dough in ½ and shape into 2 rounds. Chill until ready to roll. Roll each round to ⅛ inch thickness.

Bean Sausages Are Novel Treat

DRIED beans are abundant and and economical and can be cooked deliciously. To prove it, try this different recipe:

Bean Sausages
(Serves 4)

Two cups cooked dry beans, 2/3 cup bread cubes, 1 egg, beaten, ½ teaspoon sage or savory seasoning, salt and pepper to taste, milk, fine dry crumbs.

Mash beans. Mix well with bread cubes and egg. Add the seasonings and moisten with milk Shape the mixture in the form of sausage and roll in crumbs. Brown in a little hot fat, turning to form a good crust all over. Cook slowly about 20 minutes. Note: Bean sausages are good with tomato sauce, catsup, chili sauce, or a crisp green salad alongside.

Glazed Ham and Bean Rolls
(Makes 4-6 servings)

Eight slices boiled ham, cut thin, 1½ teaspoons prepared mustard, 1 pound can pork and beans, 3 tablespoons dark brown sugar, 3 tablespoons water.

Heat oven to 375 degrees (moderate). Spread ham slices with mustard. Empty pork and beans into a bowl; mash beans slightly. Place 3 tablespoons on each slice of ham; roll up. Put in a baking dish. Combine brown sugar and water to make syrup; baste ham with this syrup before placing in oven and once while baking. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 25 to 30 minutes.

(NEA Service)

For youngsters' mid-meal snacks serve something simple: an orange, a glass of tomato juice and a cracker, a glass of fmilk and a cookie are all suitable.

Addd shredded cabbage or finely cut celery to canned tomatoes; simmer and season with salt and a little butter or margarine. Serve in individual sauce dishes (to be eaten with a spoon) and top with crisp buttered croutons.

Food Just For Dad On His Day

FATHER'S Day is coming, and if you spend the rest of the year dividing menus among the various likes and dislikes in your family, here is one time for a special Sunday breakfast with only the foods Dad likes best.

How can you help but please a man with a breakfast of country fried steak and skillet fried potatoes; sausage with poached eggs; or ham with a special omelet? Hot breads such as blueberry or corn cheese muffins also tempt the masculine appetite. And since frozen foods are so available, Dad's favorite, even if not in season, can be found very easily. Have a leisurely meal, and keep the conversation gay.

Perhaps the head of your household looks forward to sleeping late on Sunday morning, and his special day may be the one time he has a chance to catch up on a really long snooze. If this is the case, why not plan Dad's celebration with a Sunday Night Supper? It will be a splendid chance to invite his close friends over for a festive meal served buffet style, but no "lap" service on this day. Gentlemen prefeer to draw their chairs up to a table. Here is the menu, tested in the Proctor & Gamble kitchen, and found most popular with the masculine contingent: Onion soup with cheese pastry topping; grilled hamburgers; French fries; salad bowl; French bread; rye bread; cherry pie a la mode; coffee.

ONION SOUP

2 c beef broth or consomme
2 or 3 large onions
3 T Crisco
½ t Worcestershire sauce
½ t salt
⅛ t pepper
4 slices toast (crusts trimmed)
Grated cheese.

Slice onions and separate into rings. Brown them in hot Crisco in a skillet. Cover skillet and simmer slowly for a few minutes. Add the broth, sauce and seasonings. Bring this mixture gently to the boiling point and let it simmer for a few minutes. Pour into bowls. Float a slice of toast in each bowl. Sprinkle with grated cheese.

Make sure that the meat you give young children is tender and easy to chew.

It's Strawberry Shortcake Time

SPECIAL DESSERT . . . Berries 'n cake.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

MAKE a gorgeous Strawberry Shortcake for dessert.. You'll probably have to buy the strawberries the day before and so you should know how to store them. First pick the berries over, removing partially softened or moldy ones; spread the rest out on a flat enamel tray or in a good-sized pan, cover the tray or pan with waxed paper or aluminum foil, folding the sides under, refrigerate. Before serving, dip the berries into cold water to wash, hull afterwards to save juices..

The following recipe calls for an ample amount of strawberries. Be sure to save the largest berries for the top of the shortcake and use the smaller ones to sandwich between layers of the hot biscuit.

Strawberry Shortcake

Ingredients. 3½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 5 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2/3 cup vitamized margarine, 1 1/3 cups milk, extra vitaminized margarine (melted), extra sugar, 2 to 3 quarts strawberries, 1 pint cream (whipped and unsweetened).

Method: Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut in 2/3 cup vitaminized margarine until coarse crumbs form. Add milk and mix lightly with a fork. Turn slightly more than ½ the dough into a well greased deep 8-inch layer cake pan. Press out to edges of pan. Brush with extra melted vitaminized margarine. Cover with waxed paper that extends over sides of pan. Brush with extra melted vitaminized margarine and sprinkle lightly with extra sugar. Bake in a hot (450F.) oven 25 to 30 minutes. In the meantime, make a syrup by adding ½ cup sugar to 1 cup small strawberries. Bring slowly to a boil. Drain, reserving berries. Add water to make 1 cup strawberry juice. Add ½ cup additional sugar and 2 tablespoons cornstarch to the juice. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly, and boil 1 minute. Add reserved strawberries and ½ the remaining strawberries. When shortcake is baked, hold ends of waxed paper and lift off top layer. Slip lower crust onto a hot platter, cover with berries to which the syrup has been added. Add to top layer and cover with rest of berries and cream. Serves 6 to 8.

TO MAKE COOKING EASIER

Apples, baked, stewed, or made into sauce, make a fine breakfast fruit. Or apple slices may be simmered in a sugar syrup and served with crisp ready-to-eat breakfast cereal.

Your "king for a day" will enjoy this delicious quick chocolate cake, baked in his honor on Father's Day.

The Cookbook

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Make Dad 'King for a Day'

MOST fathers prefer chocolate cake. So bake one for Father's Day. But make it a regal affair—put a gold paper crown on top with "King for a Day" printed boldly across the crown. He'll feel like a big shot—the way he should be made to feel on his special day.

The cake can be an easy business if you use a new devil's food mix. Just add milk, beat and bake, and your downy-textured cake is ready for the oven, in a big square pan or two eight-inch layers.

Frost the cake with a quick white frosting, or with a rich chocolate eggnog frosting flavored with rum extract; then border the cake with a crown of maraschino cherries and points of pineapple.

Chocolate Eggnog Frosting

Melt three squares unsweetened chocolate in double boiler. Remove from boiling water; add 1½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar and 2 tablespoons hot water and blend. Add one egg, slightly beaten, in two parts, beating well after each addition. Then add 4 tablespoons softened butter, a tablespoon at a time, beating thoroughly after each amount. Add ¼ teaspoon rum extract and blend.

Four-Minute Frosting

Combine one unbeaten egg white, ¾ cup sugar, dash of salt, 3 tablespoons water and one teaspoon light corn syrup in top of small double boiler. Beat with rotary egg beater or electric beater about one minute, or until blended. Cook over rapidly boiling water, beating constantly with rotary egg beater (or at high speed of electric beater) 4 minutes, or until frosting will stand in stiff peaks. Remove from boiling water. Add one teaspoon vanilla and beat one minute, or until thick enough to spread.

Parties Are Coming So Bake a Cake

CAKE stacks up to meet the refreshment needs of many occasions this month of school commencements, shower parties, weddings and anniversaries.

Make your own, if you like, but don't overlook the fact that there is a bake-shop to provide a good cake, too. Ready-baked, you take the layers to your own kitchen to decorate as you like or as the occasion demands.

If you do measure ingredients and mix your own cake, start with good ingredients and those suitable for baking.

JUBILEE CAKE

One cup plus 2 tablespoons sifted cake flour, 1½ cups sifted sugar, 1¼ cups egg whites, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspon almond extract, 1½ cups shredded coconut.

Sift flour once. Measure. Add ½ cup sugar. Sift together 4 times. Beat egg whites and salt with flat wire whisk or rotary egg beater until foamy. Sprinkle with cream of tartar. Continue beating until egg whites are stiff enough to hold up in soft peaks.

Add remaining sugar in 4 additions by sprinkling 4 tablespoons at a time over egg whites. Beat 25 strokes or turns each time. Add flavorings. Beat 10 strokes or turns.

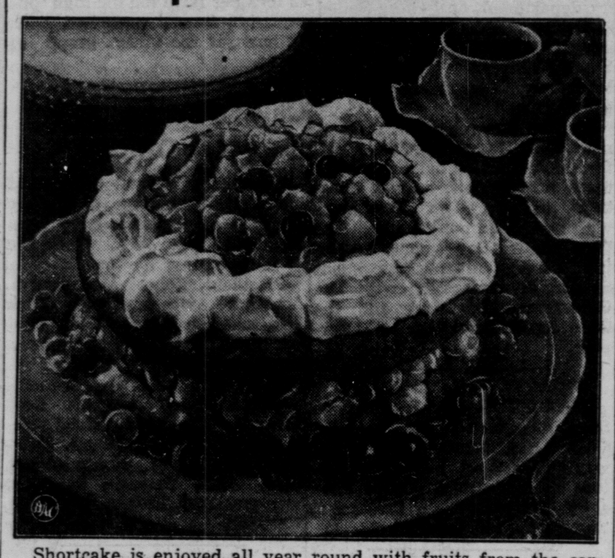

Add flour-and-sugar mixture in 4 additions, sifting the mixture over the surface of the egg whites. Fold in each addition with flat wire whisk or large spoon, turning bowl gradually. Use 15 complete fold-over strokes each time. After last addition, use 10 to 20 extra strokes.

Turn into ungreased 10-inch tube pan. Bake in moderate oven, 375 degrees F., 30 to 35 minutes. Remove from oven. Invert pan on rack. Let stand 1 hour Invert pan on rack. Let stand 1 hour, or until cake is cool. Remove from pan.

Frost with fluffy white frosting. Tint coconut. Sprinkle generously over top and sides of cake. Place slender glass in center opening of cake. Fill with water. Arrange flowers in glass.

To tint coconut: Place coconut in glass jar. Do not fill jar more than ½ full. Dilute a small amount of food coloring. Sprinkle over coconut. Cover jar. Shake vigorously until coloring is evenly distributed and desired shade is obtained.

Fruit Tops Shortcake

Shortcake is enjoyed all year round with fruits from the can shelf, and it's ready in jiffy time with packaged biscuit mix. Here, favorite canned fruit cocktail in a lemon sauce is the topping for a colorful shortcake of mouthwatering goodness.

ALL the fruit peeling, cutting and blending steps for this shortcake have been done to perfection by the canner. Follow directions on the box for making the biscuit dough. When the shortcake is baked, cut and butter it and spoon on the fruit. Top with whipped cream if desired.

Canned Fruit Cocktail Shortcake

2 c prepared biscuit mix
1 T butter or margarine
1 No. 2½ can fruit cocktail, drained well
*Lemon sauce
1 c heavy cream, whipped

Prepare shortcake according to directions given on biscuit mix package. Knead gently 8 to 10 times on lightly floured board. Pat or roll out ½ of the dough to fit a round 8-inch cake pan; dot with butter. Pat or roll out the remaining ½ of the dough to fit pan and place on top of the first layer. Bake in hot oven (450 F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Cool; split layers. Add drained fruit cocktail to lemon sauce; blend. Put ½ of the mixture between the layers. Spoon remaining fruit mixture over the cake. Garnish with whipped cream. Yield: 8 servings.

Lemon Sauce For Shortcake

2 T cornstarch
⅛ t salt
1/3 c sugar
1½ c fruit cocktail liquid
2 T butter or margarine
¼ c lemon juice.
1 t lemon rind.

Combine cornstarch, salt and sugar in saucepan. Slowly add fruit cocktail liquid, stirring constantly, to avoid lumps. Simmer, stirring constantly, about 5 minutes or until mixture is clear and thickened. Remove from heat and stir in butter, lemon juice and lemon rind.

Yield: 2 cups.

For a summer fruit plate serve melon rings with crunchy cream-cheese stuffed celery for flavor and texture contrasts.

Columbiana County To Hold Conservation Field Day

Plans are being made for a Conservation Field Day to be held in Columbiana County August 9.

The Agricultural Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service and Farm Machinery Dealers Association are cooperating to plan and carry out the program. The event will take place on the farms of Clyde Freeman, Clifford Shaw and Jack Jarman, located about three miles west of Lisbon and one-half mile south of Route 30.

A large number of demonstration plots have been laid out seeded on these farms. They include: Varieties of legumes and grasses, different pasture mixtures, oats and hybrid corn varieties, rate of application of fertilizer, use of green manure crops and pasture improvement. A display of farm machinery will also be shown.

The program will include laying out and construction of terraces, plowing, fitting and seeding; dynamite ditching; power saw demonstrations and demonstrations of other farm equipment.

Ohio Leads Nation's Farms In Electricity

Ohio leads the nation in farms with electric power.

Latest report from the Rural Electrification Administration reveals that 99.4 percent of Ohio's farms now have central station electric service. "No other state has as high a percentage of farms with electricity," according to C. M. Ferguson, director of the Agricultural Extension Service of Ohio State University.

He commends the activities of the REA, as well as the public and private power utilities, for their aggressive efforts to bring the electrical service to the farm, and the nearly 220,000 farmers who were quick to take advantage of the "high line hired man."

Since the REA was organized 15 years ago, rural electrification has grown by leaps and bounds in Ohio. He points out that in 1935, only 48,048 Ohio farms, or 18.8 percent had central station electric service. Today 219,227 farms are energized, with only 1,348 still waiting for electricity.

Wooster Station To Hold 2nd Open House July 14

L. L. Rummell, director of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, announces the second "Open House" of the 1950 season, to be held at Wooster on Friday, July 14.

Featured on this day will be pasture improvement and grassland farming, breeding, feeding and management of native and western sheep, and spraying and dusting schedules for controlling insects and diseases in vegetable gardens and flower gardens.

The program is scheduled to begin at 10 a. m. (E. S. T.). Visitors should report at the grove on the main campus for literature and instructions. Lunch will be served on the grounds and picnic areas will be available.

Joseph W. Fichter, master of the Ohio State Grange, today announced that Lurliene Brooks of Milford Center is the state winner in the nation-wide contest sponsored by the National Grange and the American Plant Food Council on the subject, "Soil Fertility and the Nation's Future."

The essay by Lurliene Brooks, state winner, has been sent to the National Grange to compete for national prizes totaling $10,000, National awards are: First prize, $1,000; second, $500; third, $400; fourth, fifth and sixth $300 each.

furnished by the American Plant Food Council.

Lurliene Brooks will receive $100.00 and an attractive certificate of award and an embossed pin. She is a member of Milford Center Grange, Union County.

Keith Merrit Thogmartin of R. D. 5, Newark, placed second. His award is $50 as well as a certificate of award and embossed pin. Keith is a member of Franklin Grange, Licking County.

Third place, carrying an award of $25 went to Gene Treece, R. D. 4, Findlay. Gene is a member of Jackson Grange, Hancock County.

Farmers Can Receive 1951 Wheat Allotments

Producers on farms on which no wheat was seeded for harvest in any of the years 1948, 1949, or 1950, may apply for a 1951 wheat acreage allotment, according to Clifford F. Shaw Chairman of the Columbiana County Production and Marketing Administration Committee.

To be considered for an allotment on a new farm, the farmer must apply in writing to his county PMA Committee by June 26.

The application must contain evidence that the land for which an allotment is requested is suitable for the production of wheat and that the operator will be largely dependent for his livelihood on his farming.

Willis Zimmerman's Jersey Herd Classified

Willis J. Zimmerman of R. D., Salem, had his Jersey herd classified for type under the program of The American Jersey Cattle Club. The classification was for all previously unclassified females who have had at least one calf and all bulls over two years old. His 17 animals were rated as: Very Good, seven; Good Plus, nine, and Good, one .

Professor George Hyatt, Jr. of the University of West Virginia, an official classifier for the club, performed the inspection.

Last Test Year Ended By Beloit Man's Herd

With an average of 469 pounds of butterfat and 12,943 pounds of milk, the 28-cow herd of registered Holstein-Friesians owned by C. L. Israel, Beloit, Ohio completed its last test year recently. The testing was carried on under the official Herd Improvement Registry program of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Milking was done two times daily and testing was supervised by Ohio State University in cooperation with the national Holstein headquarters.

County Youths Honored In Safety Contest

COLUMBUS, June 15—A Madison County youth team won top honors in a five-month farm safety competition, it was announced today by D. R. Bryan, director of rural youth for the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Paulding County youth team won second place, and Columbiana County was commended by the judges for the enthusiastic participation in the contest. Columbiana has seven youth teams competing. Paulding and Madison counties entered three each, and Huron County competed with two.

The state winner will receive a trophy and an expense-paid trip to the National Safety Congress in Chicago, Oct. 15. Each team winner from the county will be honored, along with the Madison County group, at the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation banquet in November.

Sponsored by the Farm Bureau insurance companies in connection with the Ohio Farm Bureau Youth Councils as an experiment in reducing farm hazards, the contest included four counties. More counties may be asked to participate in a similar contest next year, Bryan said.

JAMES G. DONOVAN, attorney and former New York state senator, looks pleased over being selected as coalition candidate to run against Rep. Vito Marcantonio in New York's 18th district. Donovan, a World War I veteran, is endorsed by both Democrats and Republicans.

Ohio Poultry Day Set For June 29 At Station

E. L. Dakan, chairman of the poultry science department of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, announces that Poultry Day will be held at Wooster Thursday, June 29, starting at 10 o'clock E. S. T. This is the thirtieth occasion of this event planned especially for Ohio poultrymen.

Elroy Rupp, a commercial broiler producer from Delta, Ohio, the main speaker, will tell how to produce broilers and like it.

In addition to Mr. Rupp's talk, the afternoon speaking program, which begins at 1:30 p. m. E. S. T., will include a report by Professor Dakan on "My Trip West" and a discussion by D. C. Kennard, associate chairman of the station's poultry department, on "Poultry Days Then and Now."

Talks also will be given by A. R. Winter, of the Station's poultry department, on "Those Soiled Eggs," by poultry extension specialists Emil Malinovsky on "When Youth Takes Over" and D. D. Moyer on "High Points in Poultry Housing."

Poultry researchers, D. C. Kennard, V. D. Chamberlin, and R. M. Bethke, will be on hand to review these experiments, answer questions, and carry on discussions with interested poultrymen. The Ohio Poultry Day is sponsored by the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperation with The Ohio State University and the Ohio Agricultural Extension Service.

JOHN W. SIMS HONORED

COLUMBUS, June 15—John W. Sims, executive secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, was awarded an honorary Doctors of Agriculture degree June 4 by Michigan State College, it was announced today.

Economists predict that farmers will find it advisable to top out hogs now on feed as soon as the hogs reach handy market weights, and to move sows they plan to sell as early as possible.

Conservation Proves Boost To Incomes

Farm income was higher for farmers who had adopted recommended soil and water conservation practices than for those who were following soil depleting methods of farming, reports R. H. Blosser of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station in revealing results of a recent study.

The larger income on the high conservation farms resulted principally from higher yields of grain, more hay of higher quality, increased production of the permanent pastures by liming and fertilizing, and the raising of more livestock.

Crop yields per acre on the high conservation group averaged about 25 per cent more than the yields on the low conservation farms. Hay produced averaged 42 tons per farm for the high conservation farms, compared with 28 tons for the other group of farms.

Association To Sponsor Farming Field Trip

COLUMBUS, June 15 — Soil conservation, land use, crop rotation, weed control, and all manner of modern and profitable farming methods will be studied at an all-day field trip and lecture session sponsored by the Ohio Bankers Association in cooperation with the staff of The Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster next Thursday.

Among the speakers for the station will be Leo Rummell, dean of the College of Agriculture of Ohio State University, and a director of the Cleveland Federal Reserve Bank, which also is cooperating in the meeting through Claude Hummell, its agricultural specialist.

During 1949, about 37 percent of our total fats and oils used in oleo was soybean oil. This amounted to about 17 per cent of all the soybean oil used in the United States.

Counterfeit Rings Active, Chief Warns

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—A warning went out from Capitol Hill today that New York and Chicago counterfeit rings are turning out bogus money at the rate of $100,000 a month.

The disclosure came with the release of testimony by U. S. Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman, who recently told a senate appropriations subcommittee:

"More and more criminals are turning to counterfeiting. Additional men and equipment are urgently needed to fight this criminal activity to prevent cashiers and storekeepers from losing hundreds of thousands of dollars."

Baughman said most of the counterfeiters are the black marketeers who turned out phony OPA ration stamps during World War II.
